Pageant Categories

Miss Rodeo South Dakota is judged in three equally weighted categories: horsemanship, personality, and appearance

- Appearance – the purpose of this judged division is to select the young lady who rates highest in:
 - Grooming – to include neatness and cleanliness in every detail, such as complexion, hands, fingernails, hair, make-up, hat, boots, and other wearing apparel. Meticulous care in general grooming is essential for a young lady who wants to be considered Miss Rodeo South Dakota.
 - Poise and Posture – Classy, lady-like behavior in every situation.
 - Knowledge of proper western attire- contestants should be aware of what is fashionable western dress, with particular attention given to color coordination. (Contestants should know how the use of various color combinations can enhance appearance and eye appeal). Judges will be observing how a contestant’s clothes fit and suit her personality. Contestants are expected to appear in “full western attire” (i.e., western dress, western skirt and blouse or jacket combination, or Wrangler jeans with western blouse and/or jacket) at all times, unless otherwise specified. All outfits should include western hat, boots and belt.

The skirt length should not be more than 3 inches above the knee. No halter or prom type dresses. No midriff showing. Nothing extremely low cut either in the front or the back. The style you project with your outfit should reflect a western image. If you wear a pant product it must be a Wrangler pant product.
 - It’s not necessary to invest in an excessive amount of expensive clothing. Judges will be looking for versatility and imagination displayed by the contestants.

 - Position of hand, feet and saddle
 - Mounting and dismounting.
 - The understanding and skill of the contestant will be judged, not the horse or the equipment.
 - There will be a private horsemanship interview which will be a minimum of ten minutes. In this interview, the contestants will be asked anything that the judges deem important that pertains to the horse industry.
 - There will be two go-rounds of horsemanship competition. Horses will be drawn for each go-round. The pattern will be demonstrated by the reigning Miss Rodeo South Dakota. The judges and MRSDI reserve the right to make alterations and/or additions to these instructions.

○ First Go-Round

- Pattern #1 see page 20. (This is the same pattern that is used at the Miss Rodeo America Pageant.)
- After executing reining pattern #1, contestants will dismount and be asked questions pertaining to tack, horse selection, care, feeding, diseases, anatomy, rodeo, etc.
- The contestant's style of responding to this question should be the basis for the personality score she receives in horsemanship, while the content of the answers should be used as part of her actual horsemanship score.
- Flag Presentation – At the conclusion of horsemanship pattern #1, contestants will present a flag in the arena on horseback. They will be asked to circle the arena twice, first slow and then faster, stopping at the gate before exiting the arena.

○ Second Go-Round

- Pattern #2 Rail Work (These are the same guidelines that are used at the Miss Rodeo America Pageant.)
- All contestants will enter the arena along the rail and for a specific amount of time determined by the judges. The announcer will give the instructions. The judges reserve the right to make alterations and/or additions to these instructions.
- At the end of the rail work portion the contestants will leave the arena and then come back one by one to perform a presentation ride as the announcer call out their name and title.
- Contestants should focus on their ability to utilize the horse they have drawn.

- Grand Entry
 - Contestants will be carrying sponsor flags during the Friday night rodeo performances. The contestants will be evaluated on their horsemanship abilities during the performances.

 - The dress for both horsemanship and the private horsemanship interview is long sleeve western shirt, any style Wrangler jeans, boots, hat, belt/buckle. Shirt tails must be tucked in. Spurs will not be allowed. All riding attire should be neat and fit properly. Showmanship should be considered, since a contestants personality does project from horseback to the audience and judges. The appearance score given here should be a composite of impression made throughout the horsemanship competition including the horsemanship interview, reigning pattern #1, flag presentation, rail work, and the presentation ride.

 - Intelligence – good common sense.
 - Education – conversational ability in rodeo and other areas, with special emphasis on grammar and enunciation.
 - Attractiveness – not necessarily to mean beauty, but rather whether the contestant radiates self-confidence without making an issue out of it. She should also show maturity, high moral standards, sincerity, and integrity.
 - Personality reflections – to include the contestant’s style of attire, overall appearance, magnetism and eye appeal.
 - Genuine interest in other people, in the pageant and in rodeo, and a noticeable consideration of others.
 - Self-projection – ability to project one’s personality, whether it be from horseback in an arena, on television, or before an audience. Also, to be considered are sense of humor, showmanship, ambition, desire and enthusiasm.
 - Happy outlook on life in general.

- Public appearances – includes public appearances of contestants, giving them an opportunity to speak to an audience with facts and interesting information. These appearances may be made at western fashion shows, civic groups, luncheon programs, evening meetings, banquets, etc.
- Contests will be expected to answer questions in a least one of their public appearances, with questions prepared in advance and drawn by the contestant. Possible subjects may include the definition of rodeo terms and the explanation of rodeo events. Impromptu questions all require the contestant to think “on her feet” show maturity, intelligence, wisdom and imagination
- Judges will have a copy of each contestant’s application, resume and letters of reference.

JUDGING GUIDELINES

The Judges

- Judges are selected by a committee of the MRSDI for their expertise in the fields of the competition-horsemanship, personality and appearance. They are selected based on their awareness of correct western dress, knowledge about the sport of professional rodeo, and their western-type horsemanship experience, specifically judge horse events.
- Three judges will judge all categories of the pageant. All scores from each of the three judges will be totaled by a certified public accountant for each contestant.

Judged Events

Horsemanship – Each contestant will participate in a private horsemanship interview and will ride a horse demonstrating their skills in the following: a) reigning pattern #1, b) flag presentation, c) rail work, and d) demonstration ride. As in rodeo, the contestant will compete on a mount that she draws for. Not contestant will ride the same horse in both go-rounds.

Speeches – Each contestant is required to give one extemporaneous speech.

1. Extemporaneous Speaking – Each contestant will receive a topic from MRSDI. There are 10 minutes for each contestant to prepare a minute and a half speech.

Extemporaneous Evaluation

Judging is based on content, delivery and the time allotted for the presentation. Judging is based on knowledge, poise, professionalism and delivery.

Interviews - Each contestant will be interviewed publicly and privately by the judges. Questions asked will test the contestant's knowledge of the pageant, rodeo, horsemanship and current affairs.

- The public interview will be conducted before an audience and have a 10 minute time allowance.
 - The questions asked will encompass horsemanship, rodeo, current events and issues, personal opinions, as well as general questions about the contestant herself.
 - Judges are asked to avoid questions about sex or religion.
 - Judges are encouraged to take this opportunity to find out as much as possible about the ability of the contestant, but are asked to avoid using strictly factual questions. Instead, they are encouraged to ask open-ended, discussion type questions.
- The private interview will be a minimum of 15 minutes in length and will include questions on current events, and personal opinions as well as questions about the contestant herself.
 - The content of answers and the poise with which they are presented should be considered to judge this event. Judges may be referring to contestant applications at this time, and may consider the answers as a reflection of the contestant's personality.
 - Contestants are expected to demonstrate intelligence, good judgment, conversational ability, a sense of humor, as well as familiarity with horsemanship, rodeo, and current events.
- The horsemanship interview will be a minimum of 10 minutes in length and questions asked will pertain to any aspect of the horse industry. Topics covered can also include any aspect of the horsemanship competition: reigning pattern #1, flag presentation, rail work, and wave presentation.

Impromptu Questions. Impromptu questions will be asked of each contestant during pageant functions.

- Questions asked during the impromptu sections may relate to the sport of rodeo, current events, or about the contestants themselves.

- The personality score should reflect the contestant’s ability to “think on her feet” while answering. The composure and grace with which she handles the question should be considered as well.
- In the case of horse– or rodeo-related questions, the content of the answers should be considered for the horsemanship score.
- Contestants are expected to show a reasonable familiarity with current issues, a command of basic grammar, and an ability to answer questions with maturity, intelligence and imagination.

Modeling. Contestants will participate in at least one fashion show.

- The appearance score should take into consideration the attire the contestant has chosen, as well as her ability to model with poise, grace and confidence, while effectively projecting her personality to the audience.
- While contestants are modeling, the MC will be using facts and biographical information from contestant applications as commentary for all modeling events.

Grand Entries: Appearance and horsemanship will be judged at y rodeo performances.

- Written Bio – Contestants will need to have a bio on an 8x11 piece of paper that will be used to introduce the contestant at the rodeo performances and other events. This document should be single spaced, 12 point font, and 8 lines or less of writing.

Written Test. Contestants will be given a written test with questions comprised of PRCA, general rodeo, equine, national /local sponsor and Miss Rodeo South Dakota contract information.

Additional Awards*

*These awards are judged but are NOT part of the formal scoring that determines Miss Rodeo South Dakota.

- Photogenic. The judges will score the required 8x10 colored, head and shoulders photograph submitted by each contestant to determine the winner of this category. The winner of this category will be recognized with a special award.
- Scrapbook. Pageant judges will review the scrapbooks and pick the winning scrapbook. The winner will receive an award. See guidelines below page 19.
- Congeniality. The contestants themselves vote for Miss Congeniality during the last day of the pageant. Miss Congeniality is known by her peers as the most friendly, helpful, genuine and outgoing contestant in the pageant.

SCORING

- Category winners—horsemanship, personality and appearance—shall be determined by the total scores in those categories. For example, the winner of the appearance category will have the highest cumulative total of appearance scores received in all judged events, etc.
- All 3 categories -- personality, horsemanship and appearance -- are worth equal points. There are more opportunities in the pageant schedule to score some categories than others and this could result in uneven point distribution. In order to avoid that, the sum of each category's points will be weighted to result in an equal point distribution among the categories. This is done only by the accountant, not the judges.
- All scores fall within a range of 0-25, with 12 being used to represent a given judge's perception of an average score.

- Finally, each judge is given 10 points to award to the ONE contestant that they feel performed the best overall in the pageant and would be their first choice for Miss Rodeo South Dakota. The points will be the last ten points the judge's award.
 - PLEASE NOTE: These points are not to be taken into account when calculating category winners. While judges should not discuss with each other the scores given to individual contestants, all judges will come to consensus using a similar point spread, to prevent one judge's scores from overriding all others.
- The contestant receiving the highest grand total score shall be crowned Miss Rodeo South Dakota. The contestant receiving the second highest grand total shall be first runner-up. The contestant receiving the third grand total shall be second runner-up. The announcement of second and third runners- up will be optional based on the amount of contestants competing during that year.
- Ties for category winners, i.e., Personality, Horsemanship, Appearance, will use the following procedure: each of the tied contestant's high and low total scores for that category will be dropped and the remaining score or scores will be used to determine that category winner. This method will be used only to determine who is the recipient of the tied category and will not be used to tally the grand total score each contestant receives. Ties resulting in Photogenic, Speech & Scrapbook divisions will be broken by using the same method as the category winners. A tie for Miss Congeniality will be broken by a second balloting by contestants. To break a tie for Miss Rodeo South Dakota and runners-up, the contestant who received the highest combined total horsemanship score will win the tie.

Scrapbook Guidelines

All Miss South Dakota Pageant contestants are required to bring a scrapbook for display and competition. The scrapbooks will be judged by a panel the pageant judges. A special award will be presented to the winner of the scrapbook contest, however scrapbooks are not part of the formal scoring that determines Miss Rodeo South Dakota.

The following suggestions are guidelines only and not to be considered as hard fast rules and/or regulations.

- Size: Anything too large is hard to look at and review properly. If you chose a smaller size, make sure it is not jumbled up or cramped. Avoid excessive thickness.
- Appearance & Attractiveness: This should be considered throughout the entire book, i.e. from cover to cover. The project should be attractive and neat.
- Content: A variety of items should include memorabilia from early childhood to the present time; items collected from appearances; and items the contestant cherishes. The scrapbook should be made for the contestant personally....not for the pageant.
- Workmanship & Ingenuity: Personal care, being sure the pages turn easily and items are well secured from cover to cover.
- Organization & Identification: The material should be in chronological order. Photographs, places, memorabilia, etc. should be properly identified.
- Originality & Presentation: The original, practical and innovative manner in which the overall product is prepared.
